Canadian Pacific Railways Will Close Three Weeks

TRAINMEN TO BE IDLE FROM OCT. 24-NOV. 14

13,000 Unionized Employees Will Be Affected By Layoff

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—Closing of the Canadian Pacific Railway's main shops for the three weeks between Oct. 24 and Nov. 14 was announced Wednesday as an emergency measure to counterbalance the failure of traffic to reach expected proportions.

About 13,000 unionized employees will be affected in the three weeks, the largest in the C.P.R. since the Western shops at Winnipeg, second largest, the Ogden shops at Calgary and the Vancouver plant. Representatives of the employees agreed "amicably" to the layoff, a company announcement said.

It followed an earlier report that the company would close the shops to ward economy which went into effect at the start of this week, whereby clerical workers take one week off without pay between the end of the year. The reduction in pay for these salaried workers amounts to about 8 1/2 per cent.

RETURNING TRADES OKED

Returning trades unionists are not affected by either change. Their employment, company officials announced, varies with the amount of available traffic in any event.

The temporary shop shutdown was described tonight as a "preliminary" to union-company negotiations by Thomas Brad, general manager of the C.P.R. Eastern executive and one of those who took part in the discussions with the company.

The three weeks' closing was preferable to a layoff of 100,000 men, Brad asserted. Mutual relations had prevailed throughout the negotiations.

CONSIDER LAYOFF

The C.P.R.'s statement today indicated a grumbling of the number of men on the shop payroll had been considered before the shutdown decision was reached. In announcing the decision, the statement said it had been arrived at "rather than the alternative of laying off men at the present time."

The official statement announcing economy plans last week, the railway said they were "absolutely essential" because of the "western grain crop" failure to hit expected volume had contributed with other factors to a "general failure of general exportation." This followed heavy expenditure to meet the needs of a pre-1938 railway.

Restoration of pay levels to basis of 1929 levels also had been considered to the need for economy, the C. P. R. said.

CANADA FIGURED NECESSITY FOR WHEAT PROBLEM

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—As one of the world's largest producers of wheat, Canada probably would be asked to participate in an international conference to meet agreement on methods of combating shortages.

The move was official last night on the declaration of Henry Wallace, United States secretary of agriculture, that the confident production nations would agree to measures to prevent high prices.

Government sources indicated that the move was not a result of the United States and Canada considering the international conference which Mr. Wallace said can be called this winter.

1,000 Strike

BELFAST, Oct. 12.—In protest against employment of unskilled workers, 1,000 employees in the assembly plants of the Short, Harland shipyard here went on strike last night.

came to the further and begged for autonomy.

The move was the reply, "I've already promised that to the Czechs."

German plans as complete domination of Czechoslovakia by its small neighbor. By going about it this way Hitler secured all the advantages of conquest without engaging in war, and at the same time avoided the complications which would follow trying to absorb such a liberty-loving people as the Czechs.

And the Prague government is said to be falling pretty well in with German requirements. There is nothing else Czechoslovakia can do, since the days when the fire burned on being able to defy Germany through help from France and Great Britain.

MANY INDUSTRIES CEDED

Quite apart from the military and political complications, the industries were in the Sudetenland area ceded to Germany. The smaller state now becomes largely agricultural and the fatherland is left with a heavy supply of absorbing the products of Czechoslovakia.

There is considerable quiet throughout unofficial speculation in Prague that the Czechs will not obtain still more Czechoslovak territory and through infiltration of cities of Pilsen and Brno.

There is a constant propaganda that Prague really is an old German city and the famous beer brewing cities of Pilsen and Brno, all of which is close to the borders of the territories ceded by Czechoslovakia.

By MELVIN WHITEHATER

Associated Press Feature Writer

VIENNA, Oct. 12.—Vienna Nazis, using all their propaganda means, launched a campaign today against Cardinal Innitzer and what they called "clerical satanism."

Newspapers were filled with attacks against the Archbishop and "clerical satanism." They also carried "the cure is full, it is time to act."

The information was contained in a letter written to Sir Harold Brown, director of munitions production at the British war office, by Major General E. LaFleche, June 8, 1937.

Hope of Unity in Canada

CANADA FIRST POLICY URGED BY MINISTER

Lack Of Co-Operation In Alberta Regretted By Transport Executive

MEDICINE HAT, Oct. 13.—Support for a "Canada first policy" and the province's "unity" was urged by Hon. C. D. Howe, federal minister of transport, when he spoke to members of the Medicine Hat Liberal constituency association here Wednesday.

The hope of unity in Canada lies in the liberal party, declared the minister of transport, who warned against the "threat of disintegration" cast against west, and province against province.

Dr. F. W. Gershaw, former member of the House of Commons, was chosen the Liberal candidate to contest the next federal election. He was the unanimous choice.

DELIGHTED WITH HAT
"Government members at Ottawa will be delighted to hear of the choice of the Liberal candidate for Medicine Hat," said Mr. Howe.

He said there was a lack of co-operation in Alberta in federal affairs adding it was with "great reluctance the disunity situation" was used by federal authorities.

Mr. Howe reviewed the work of the federal government, including plans for new trade agreements, its drought aid program and grain marketing assistance.

EYES OPEN
Mr. Howe, he said in explaining the government's wheat marketing policy, may finish the crop year with some loss.

"We face it with our eyes open," he added. "A wheat price was set and we will not finish the year with surplus wheat to stand in the way of marketing our succeeding crop."

A resolution was adopted expressing approval in the leadership of Mr. H. W. L. Mackenzie King who has "proved his worth as a national leader in the interests of Canada as a whole."

Another resolution urged Mr. Howe to "continue to resist the blandishments in efforts being made to amalgamate the Dominion's railways."

Mr. MacGregor of Medicine Hat was re-elected president of the association.

How to Protect Calf from Cow

If you've ever milked a cow or worked around them, you'll know that the supposedly peaceful beast has a cute habit of lashing out with their hoofs, to the detriment of the farmer's legs and temper. So some thoughtful inventor devised a sort of reversed shin-guard, called it an "anti-cowder" and, lo and behold, Alice Anthony patented the device at the recent National Inventors' Show in New York.

SULPHUR DUSTING THATCHER WHEAT WELL OUTLINED

WINNIPEG, Oct. 13.—Sulphur dusting of test plots of Thatcher wheat to prevent rust, resulting in higher yields and better grades, was outlined here today before the annual meeting of the committee on grain standards.

Dr. W. F. Geddes, grain research chemist of the board of grain commissioners, and L. M. Newman, Dominion cerealist, outlined the experiment, reporting the favorable reaction and improvement in color of Thatcher wheat, a rust-resistant variety.

Dr. Geddes said control of export standards of Canadian wheat has improved in the past two years and attracted favorable attention overseas.

U.S. TO GET LOST TRADE ADVANTAGES

Anglo-American Agreement Will Lessen Empire Preference

Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Some trade advantages with the United Kingdom which the United States lost in the British Dominions six years ago are expected to be restored by the Anglo-American trade agreement soon to be signed here.

Under the Ottawa Empire Economic Conference agreements of 1922 the United Kingdom gave the Dominions preferential tariff treatment for their agricultural and other natural products in return for preferential treatment of her manufactured goods.

DATES PRACTICAL LOSS
From that time, officials here say, dates the practical loss of the British Isles as a market for U. S. wheat and an enormous curtailment of U. S. shipments of fresh and canned fruits and vegetables.

The Anglo-American trade agreement will eliminate empire preference for some American goods and lessen it as to some others.

REAL PROTECTIONISM
Before the United Kingdom began a policy of "real protectionism" in 1931, only 28.5 per cent of imports from the United States were dutiable. After Ottawa conference the percentage was 79.8. Before the Ottawa agreement British duties on more than 50 per cent, caught only one per cent of American goods. After the agreement 66 per cent of American goods had to pay such duties.

A six cent per bushel duty was imposed on American wheat, whereas Canadian and Australian wheat contained vast empire routes went into British free. American meat shipments were cut down by a quota system working in favor of the Dominions. American fresh fruit shipments slumped because of preference given Canadian and Australian fresh fruit and South African grapefruit. The British market became all but closed to American lead and zinc, copper, hardwood timber and lard.

AMERICA SUFFERED
American railroads and ports suffered by the regulation that to enjoy the preferential tariff products from the Dominions must go directly to the United Kingdom. This diverted Canadian wheat from U. S. ports to Vancouver, Saint John and Halifax.

American regulators have been hopeful of having, this regulation abrogated through the forthcoming trade agreement.

Young Father Relates Story Losing Wife and Children in Forest Fire

FORT FRANCES, Ont. Oct. 13.—Noah Labelle, youthful settler of the Rainy River country who lost his wife and four children in Monday's forest fire, stumbled brokenly through a story of the disaster in hospital here last night.

Noah, whose brothers, Frank and William, and eight other persons are also in hospital with burns, was a neighbor's man who when flames struck his home. He rushed his family to his brother Frank's home, hoping they could find a road to safety from there.

"As we fought our way through the flames my wife, who was carrying our little baby, became terrified and all but fainted," he said. "I tried to lift her and the child but was unable to, so hot were the flames around us."

"My brother Frank came to our aid and succeeded in saving two of my children as well as his wife and two of his own. My wife and my four other children are gone."

Barely able to speak, he said two of his children, Teddy, nine, and Burdine, 13, suffered burns and that Burdine's lungs had been infected. "Pneumonia has set in and they say she hasn't much chance to live."

Fate played cruel tricks on Noah Labelle. The home from which he and his family fled still is standing, but the house of Frank Labelle, where they sought refuge, was burned to the ground.

William and Noah suffered burns and facial faces. Frank, however, suffered the most.

Flames bit into his flesh as he fought to save William's children and as he rushed his truck through the fire in a vain attempt to get his 11-year-old daughter Maxine to hospital with other injured. Maxine died shortly after reaching Fort Frances Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Labelle from her hospital bed said the "fire came all at once."

"Before we knew it, we were surrounded," she added. "It was awful. I had a pocket book and some clothes burned right out of my hands. The children were all around us. We were trapped."

B. C. LACKS CASH TO BUILD ROADS SAYS M'PHERSON

VANCOUVER, Oct. 13.—British Columbia has no money to build new highways, Hon. F. M. McPherson, minister of public works, declared Wednesday in an address to the Vancouver Board of Trade.

Some $3,500,000 in road revenue comes from the gasoline tax, the minister said, but nothing is left after maintenance costs of the present system and sinking fund payments are deducted.

The minister defended what he said was the "patchwork" plan of hard-surfacing of 800 miles of the southern trans-provincial highway from Vancouver to beyond Penticton, 340 miles west and paved, he said. Three years ago there was only 75 miles of hard surface.

He hoped and expected that within three or four years all the pieces of the "patchwork" system would be connected up.

2,657 ITALIAN MEN KILLED IN SPANISH WAR

ROME, Oct. 13.—Italy announced last night 2,657 Italian officers and men had been killed in the Spanish civil war from the beginning of operations in Spain until Oct. 10, 1938, and that an additional 278 had died from service causes.

The communists killed 12,447 officers and men as killed, wounded, or taken prisoner in the war. The communists said 2,000 of the wounded were permanently crippled or more invalid.

During 1937, nearly 90 per cent of the new car sales transactions involved trade-ins.

Red-Haired Woman Loses Legal Battle In Spy Case

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Fraudulent John H. Hoffman, 28, red-haired alleged "pay off" agent for an international spy ring operating in the United States, Tuesday lost a legal battle to quash evidence seized by federal agents in connection with the opening of an espionage trial Friday.

Held in $25,000 bail with three others, the German girl sought to have the evidence outlawed on the ground it was obtained without a search warrant but Federal Judge John C. Knox denied a motion to suppress the documents.

She was arrested last February as she departed from the liner Bremen which she worked as a beauty salon operator. Three other girls, all into the net after the federal grand jury had indicted 18 alleged members of the espionage syndicate.

The Saarbrücken Speech

In his speech at Saarbrücken, Herr Hitler said, "As a strong state we are now ready any time for a policy of understanding. We want nothing of others. We merely want peace." And a good deal more in the same strain, obviously intended to be heard in Paris and London.

There is no possibility that in either of these capitals the language of the Fuehrer was taken at its face value. Rearmament is still going on at accelerating pace in both France and Britain, and will go on. With good reason, for the iron policy is systematic aggression set forth in detail in "Mein Kampf" is not to be waived aside by a few pleasant-sounding phrases which might, as likely as not, be intended only to lull suspicion until the time comes for another installment of the declared program of expansion by force.

All the same, this would be a good time to capitalize on the Fuehrer's profession of a change of heart, by giving him an invitation to adopt the policy of understanding he says he desires. If he wants nothing more from other countries, and is willing to prove his desire for permanent peace by ceasing to pile up armaments on condition that other countries do the same, he deserves an opportunity to make good the claim.

Positive action by France and Britain at this time, with the Fuehrer's situation on the basis Herr Hitler has himself suggested, would be in order. They could at least find out whether "Mein Kampf" or the Saarbrücken speech is the line he intends to follow.

A C. O. L. Survey

Agents of the Bureau of Statistics are visiting "typical" homes in a dozen cities to find out how much it costs the average middle-class family to buy food. What exactly is the purpose of the survey has not been stated. The information is to be passed on to the department of health and the department of agriculture, and it is no doubt a useful study of the influence of diet on health, and of the kind of products the farmer has the best chance of selling at a profit in the home market.

If its usefulness need not stop there, and should not. The facts disclosed should be studied also in their bearing on old age pensions and unemployment allowances. The maximum of $20 a month payable under the pension plan is altogether inadequate to support the pensioner at a fair Canadian standard of living. And if the Government intends, despite the opposition of some of the provinces, to introduce an employment insurance scheme, allowances under this ought to bear some relationship to the average cost of living.

If these were definitely known to be among the objects of the survey, house holders would undoubtedly furnish the information gladly and accurately. Since there is more or less uncertainty as to why the information is wanted, the questionnaires may not be welcome everywhere. When government agents inquire into private affairs, a quite natural assumption is that there is some new taxation in the making. If that happens to be the inference drawn, the canvassers are quite likely to meet with disappointing receptions, and perhaps disconcerting as well.

The Marvel of the "Movies"

From the day in 1896 when Thomas Edison announced a popular audience in New York by showing them motion pictures, the making and exhibiting of films has grown into one of the world's biggest commercial enterprises. Nothing that has been shown on the screen is more remarkable than the expansion of the industry itself. It has explored the realm of science, the realm of history and romance, and subjects, has enlisted men and women of all nations in one capacity or another, spent money like water, set new standards of pay for artists, and now displays the product of its enterprise in villages in every city, town and village in civilized lands.

Everywhere the "movies" are now taken for granted, and millions see them every day. But that many of the patrons cast their thoughts behind the scenes to the wonder of the thing itself, and appreciate what has been involved in creating this new means of entertainment, may be doubted. The very interest aroused by the pictures in the subjects they present diverts attention from the marvel of their making and presentation.

The exhibitors, distributors and producers of motion pictures in Canada and the United States have joined together to tell the public something about the industry itself. They are doing so in newspaper advertisements, appearing at intervals, and setting out the aims and difficulties of those behind the pictures. If there also creeps into these explanatory announcements something of pride in what has been accomplished, what wonder?

Those who go to the "movies"—and that is all of us—cannot fail to be interested in these messages from the people who spend their lives to provide this class of entertainment. They are well worth reading.

Editorial Notes

The real excitement will start when the German population in northern Italy calls for "Anschluss."

Germany, it is calculated, will get 11,400 square miles of Czechoslovakia, Poland 772 square miles, and Hungary 4,000 square miles. The country contained 54,244 square miles before the hacking began. Something more than one-fourth but less than one-third of its territory is thus already ear-marked for absorption by its hungry neighbors, and the marking is still going on.

The Fascist Grand Council has decided to abolish the Italian Chamber of Deputies and replace it by a chamber of Fasces and Guilds. The change may hardly be noticed in the fact that the Fasces would go up in Canada if the Dominion Executive of the Liberal party were to decide to abolish the House of Commons and substitute a law-making body composed of members of the Chambers of Commerce and the Trades and Labor Council.

THE OLD LIGHT SHINES

Marsh lights dance entirely all around the horizon and many are following them. But to say still shines, for all who would walk in the light.

That is to say, there is a clear leadership for life, in the era of confusion, in the explicit teaching of the Bible, and in the light which comes to the eyes of the light that shines from the Book.

Never was there broader or more practical or urgent need for studying the Scriptures than today. A knowledge of the Bible, an awareness of God and of His will for our times, are to be had from the time-tested Bible. While prayer is our speaking to God, Scripture study is God's speaking to us.

We crave Thy forgiveness, our Father, for our neglect of Thy revealed will. Make us, especially in these brief and infrequent days, children of the Book. Amen.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Fannie Hurst, author of "Four Daughters" and numerous other novels that have been sensational for the films, was one of the judges at a contest in New York last month to select the "most beautiful" woman in the world. She was one of the college girls entered the competition, the number being narrowed down to thirteen finalists. These appeared before a distinguished jury of six, which included Miss Hurst and the well known American artist James Montgomery Flagg. After the five were finally selected Miss Hurst addressed a few friendly questions to them. She wanted to know what their main ambition in life. Without exception—though with trifling variation in detail—all made answer: "To get married."

One amplified it by saying "to have as many children as my mother's mother had." With six daughters, whereas daughter would prefer half and half of each sex. A dashing blonde said "Marriage—and twice."

Miss Hurst, who probably had expected to receive confidences for artistic and professional careers, and who considers her own novels pretty heavy toll, could stand it no longer. With equal frankness she fung back at the husband-happy quizzette the scornful words, "I'm sick of the idea of you saying he's a handsome fellow and then standing stiffly at attention except when they doubled off in military fashion after balls that were not his."

Just how good as wives these girls will prove to be remains to be seen. Modern times require modern methods—even in the business of wooing—on the whole one of the most profitable careers for not only women but men.

Glady's says that a man who has been in England this summer, had with him a "fold time permit" from his wife. It read as follows:

"This is to certify that J. Jackie, the legally wedded wife of Ron Whyte, do hereby permit my husband to go wherever he pleases, when he pleases, and I furthermore permit him to keep and enjoy the company of any lady he sees fit, at, as I know he will, good luck. I want him to back horses and enjoy life in the world, for he will be a long time doing so."

That's the ultra-modern wife for you. It's good technique too. A husband would be a rat who'd take advantage of liberties so generously doled out to him.

In the same old city of New York where the college girls all want to marry, a cooking course for "only" is being opened at New York University. The course is called "Miss Gladys Curry, has coined a slogan "Every husband should cook dinner at least once a week."

TEACH HUSBAND "more scientific mind" and HOW TO COOK "more mechanical ability" than the wife.

"Turn out quite a palatable meal from a simple recipe." We've heard all that before, Gladys, but now we hear that the husband should be the one to cook. We'll pretend until inability even to wash a dish. Cooking dinner on Sunday or Monday will be just the end of the matter. Next it will be Tuesdays and Wednesdays and Thursdays and Fridays and all the time.

For myself, I have difficulty in throwing up a good meal when out cruising in a boat, or on a campfire in the bush, but I stand helpless before a modern kitchen. My husband declares I hope the day may never come when a cool sweet voice will say petulantly to me, "J. S. I wish you could learn to bake the kind of biscuits Father used to make."

For advice on matrimony, write to someone like Dorothy Dix who is wiser than I in the ways of matrimony. She says that a husband should be sent to six months for "husband-beating" with sentence suspended on promise to be good. In Chicago another wife has explained her love for her husband by saying "I love him because he was murdered, by saying 'I love him because his extreme kindling'."

Old Country Letter

By J. E. NORCROSS

LONDON, Eng.—(By Mail)—The death of Prince Arthur of Connaught brings to mind the fact that, had he chosen, he might have become a German prince with the consequences that he would have died for against Great Britain in the Great War, instead of with the Canadian Corps, of which he was a staff officer.

In 1889 the succession to the throne of the Duke of Edinburgh, who died without issue in 1900. The next in line was Prince Arthur's father, the Duke of Connaught, who waived his claim. Prince Arthur then became entitled to the dukedom.

He was a lad of whom called upon to make one of the greatest decisions of his life. He was loth to leave England, however, priding himself on his military training, and on being an Englishman. A curious story is told of an incident that settled the question for him.

While the matter was still undecided the Prince went over to Germany. One of the diversions was a game of tennis with some of his young German relatives. While they were playing he noticed a number of Englishmen standing stiffly at attention except when they doubled off in military fashion after balls that were not his.

That was too much for the lad, who was then at Eton. He declined the honor and returned home. His cousin, the son of Prince Leopold, Duke of Albany, succeeded to the German title and estates.

Hefty Danish Dishes For Lusty Appetites

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
Danish food is not a snack. It is designed for cavernous appetites. If you have a little cavernous eater in your home, try these Danish specialties.

VEAL AND HAM PIE

Three-quarter pound boiled ham, 1½ pounds cooked veal, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup stock (left from cooking veal or veal bones), 1½ tablespoons flour, 1 beef bouillon cube, 1 small can mushrooms.

Cube ham and veal. Make a white sauce by melting butter in saucepan, add flour and mix well. Then add milk gradually and stir over low flame until milk boils.

Add veal stock, mushrooms with liquid, cubes dissolved in a little of the stock, salt and pepper to taste. Rub baking dish with the cut side of a clove of garlic, put in your sauce over meat, cover all with rich brown dough. Bake in oven until well browned and crisp.

Lauretic Melchior, six foot four inches, height and weight, and valiant eater, gave me that recipe. He says you'll find his favorite Danish soufflé, too. It has a grand sauce made of sliced steamed pears blanketed in whipped cream.

DANISH SOUFFLE

One pint milk, 6 tablespoons butter, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup flour, 6 eggs, grated rind.

Cream butter and sugar until

Raising A Family

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Have you noticed, mother, that your twelve-to-fourteen-year-old is not very domestic? Now is the time for the bookworm to develop with a vengeance and the movie addict to hunt the picture houses more avidly than ever.

Any and every thing that gets them away from the family circle seems to be the place for them. These are the children of our age. They are still the same old-fashioned youngsters they always were, but there are reasons. The biggest reason is themselves.

They know as well as you do that they are without place. No longer children in the old sense, they aren't adults either. One day they are made to feel like two-year-olds and the next they are spoiled for not being more. More can be accomplished by a sort of tolerant, "let's get together on this one," or "daughter, and trying to get their own bearings at the same time. They are abashed about nothing, and as a result keep their thoughts to themselves. Fear of offending results in a craving for privacy or escape to some of their age in the same fix.

A mother is usually hurt by the heart by this sudden indifference and the frantic preference for strangers. It is only a phase and will pass, but it is hard to understand and accept while it lasts.

Another thing that adds to the suspicion of these young adolescents is dread of ridicule. They are often fearful and certainly they are unpredictable. One must be likely to give way to another in rapid rotation. Add to this a natural awkwardness and of course, accidents and mishaps pile up. At a time when these children are superstitious to criticism and self-doubt, culture apparently "has made them legitimate target for both. What a pity.

The first lesson is to try to avoid the girl into pleasant mood. They are going to exaggerate what they think of as persecution, no matter how thoroughly justified the parent may be. More can be accomplished by a sort of tolerant, "let's get together on this one," or "daughter, and trying to get their own bearings at the same time. They are abash-

New Typhoid Case Found At Merritt

MERRITT, B.C., Oct. 13—A new case of typhoid and a new suspect of case were reported Wednesday by Dr. Austin F. Gibbs, medical health officer in this Kamloops outbreak of the fever which has already claimed one life.

Dr. Gibbs said the outbreak, traced to milk from a single dairy which had been closed, was under control, though some new cases might yet develop. If they don't use up all free time, I should try to make the young adolescent's home his real castle.

Union Of City Medical Departments Is Now Proposed

HEALTH WORK AMALGAMATION IS ADVOCATED

Ald. F. C. Casselman Urges
Co-Ordination Of City
Services

Belief that the city board of health and the hospital board should be amalgamated and that eventually the health of the entire community should be administered by one department was expressed by Ald. F. C. Casselman at a meeting of the city board of health Wednesday afternoon.

While no action was taken on the proposal Wednesday, it is expected the question will be discussed again in the near future.

After Ald. Casselman had made this suggestion, Ald. A. Bluet recalled that Dr. R. B. Jenkins, who retired from the post of city medical officer one year ago, had recommended this proposal in a letter written to the board at the time of his resignation.

ONE IN CHARGE
"The medical health officer should have charge of the health of the entire community and it must not include hospitals I don't know that," stated Ald. Casselman.

Ald. Casselman has long been the advocate of the city medical officer who has been in charge of all associated departments in the city. He has advocated the suggestion that the work of the school board should be taken over by an enlarged city council and the school board abolished.

LARGER BOARD
If it could be decided to adopt Ald. Casselman's plan, the city medical officer would be in charge of all matters pertaining to the health of the city. All work now done by the hospital board and the school medical department would be carried on under the larger board of health of which the city health officer would be the head.

The administration of the Royal Alexandra hospital would be the duty of a "hospital superintendent" who would be responsible to council through the health board.

Candidate of Mayor John W. Fry for re-election in the ensuing civic election has been assured by the decision of the Citizens' Committee to endorse him as a candidate for the mayoralty again this year. It was announced by Bruce C. Whitaker, secretary of the committee, Thursday.

While it is probable that the Citizens' Committee will again endorse a complete slate for election, and school board, no decision has yet been reached. Several of the probable candidates are under consideration.

Learning of the decision of the Citizens' Committee Thursday morning, Mayor Fry stated: "I am naturally gratified in the confidence the Citizens' Committee have shown in me."

"However, I have no intention of beginning my second year as mayor for too long with the affairs of the city. I am going to devote my full time to the council and citizens are now being carefully prepared and will be completing the next week their candidate again this year."

What To Do

By Phyllis Belmont

I have a dear friend who is getting married in November, and as she has no parents I should like to give her a shower, but I cannot afford it. Would it be proper to have all the girl friends meet at a restaurant and each girl pay her own dinner as well as bring some small gift for the future bride? If not, could you suggest something that would be on the same plan?

MRS. P. R. M.

Answer—Very often four or five of the bride's friends club together and give a shower, each one bearing the share of the expense. With very simple refreshments and decorations the cost of the party would be kept down to a minimum and each girl would need to pay only a small sum. However, your suggestion is a good one, but, if possible, try to have the shower at a home rather than a restaurant. If you cannot arrange a home affair, then a restaurant would be best, then a restaurant and a private room better than the public dining room.

MOST 'COLONIAL' HOUSES IN AMERICA ARE NOT COLONIAL

The author of the book 'The Colonial House' is a debunker of the idea that most houses in America are colonial. He argues that many of the houses that are labeled as colonial are actually of much later date and do not have the characteristics of true colonial architecture.

Future Bright

EDMONTON TESHIMON may not win a football game this season, but it just now there is every indication that they will make good history by being the first club to complete its first season in the Western Conference without going into the financial red. Last night Treasurer Jack Marshall presented an interim report to the executive committee of the Sports & Amusement Club which showed that the club was almost certain to finish its first season without a deficit. That impresses me a whole lot more than would the winning of a couple of games by the Reds. It proves that the Booster Club has the sound type of business ability that Edmonton sport has been sadly in need of for many years. No other club in the Western Conference has ever been able to finish its first season without a deficit.

He is currently undergoing rigorous training and is expected to be a valuable asset to his unit.

Sniping Here and There

There has been some sniping here and there in the local sports scene. Some athletes are complaining about the lack of support from the community. However, the majority of fans remain loyal and enthusiastic. The sports organizations are working to address the concerns and ensure a fair and competitive season.

Bucky Harsh of the Washington Senators thinks the National League should feel very happy. "It's this way," says Bucky. "The National League has to face these Yankees four times in a season but think of it. In the American League we get to face them only once." Bucky's father, who is also a baseball player, looks like Bucky has something there.

'Lippy' Durocher Signs Manage 'Daffy' Dodgers

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—"Lippy" Durocher, the out-talking New York Yankees manager, signed Wednesday to manage Brooklyn Dodgers next season, succeeding the old pitcher, Burt Hooton.

Durocher's father died Monday night in West Springfield, Mass., and he hurried here only to announce his plans before returning for the funeral today.

BUT OUT

There is another package for the Red Sox, one of a kind.

The team, after coming out of retirement the past midseason to reach at first base the championship, Dodgers, attracted bumper crowds. He and Durocher had a real war day in the clubhouse, probably ending with a winner's champagne. He may have had to manage the team next year.

Athletics Triumph 10-7 in Final Game

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—The Mann cup and the senior lacrosse championship of Canada were brought back to the east last night when St. Catharines Athletics defeated New Westminster's youthful Adanacs 10-7 for their third straight victory in the Dominion final.

Fanned for their final-quarter rallies, Athletics came from behind to put in five goals in the fourth period. It was St. Catharines' closest margin of victory in the best of five series. The eastern titlists won the first game Friday 18-11, and doubled the score, 22-11, in the second game Monday.

Adanacs put up a game struggle as they made a last-ditch stand to retain the cup won last year by another New Westminster team, the Salmonbellies. They led 3-2 after the first quarter, 6-4 at half-time and still retained a one-goal lead entering the final quarter.

SEE-SAWED
New St. Catharines, St. Catharines, opened the final quarter with a scoring spree, scoring seven goals in the period. The eastern team, the lacrosse team, and the Adanacs again put them into the lead after five minutes.

But from then until the final whistle Adanacs rang up goals with clock-like regularity at two-minute intervals. Adanacs could not respond. They had played themselves out trying to beat an older, heavier and better team.

St. Catharines goals were well guarded. The end and from St. Catharines scored twice in the second quarter, 6-4 at half-time, and doubled the score, 12-4, in the third quarter.

TRIO OF MARKERS
Earl Robertson, St. Catharines, scored three goals in the final quarter, 10-7. St. Catharines, West, scored 10 goals in the final quarter, 10-7. St. Catharines, West, scored 10 goals in the final quarter, 10-7.

Westmount Boys Spring Surprise Win Over Scona

YESTERDAY afternoon, Westmount scored a surprising but a well deserved win over Strathcona in a junior league fixture played at the athletic grounds. Trotting out a squad that looked as good as any seen to date, the winners, after a rather shaky start, soon settled down and ran roughshod over a bewildered Scona team, to check in with a 27-15 victory.

The night of the encounter was the hottest yet in the history of the league. The game was played in the heat of the day, and the players were exhausted by the end of the match.

The team's surprise victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication. They had been struggling in the league, but they managed to pull it off in the end.

Westmount's victory was a surprise to many, but it was well deserved. They had been working hard, and their efforts paid off in the end.

THE ROUND CHAPEL OF THE HOLY CROSS
PRAGA—CZECHOSLOVAKIA
BUILT BY A CRUSADER NAMED PALEUSIN IN THE EXACT SHAPE OF THE ROUND TOWER IN DAMASCUS—A DREADED PLACE OF DETENTION WHERE PALEUSIN WAS IMPRISONED. 900 YRS. OLD

EXPLANATION OF TODAY'S CARTOON
THE ROUND CHAPEL OF THE HOLY CROSS: The Round Chapel of the Holy Cross in Praha was built by a returning crusader in fulfillment of a vow. The crusader, a Bohemian knight named Paleus, was imprisoned in the Round Tower in Damascus, a dreaded place of detention in the time of the Crusades. The prisoner made a vow that he would build a church in Praha in the exact shape of his prison, if he should ever recover his liberty. His prayer was heard and the vow kept. The church is nearly nine centuries old.

Collegiate Athletes Prep For Track Test

AFTER weeks of preparation University of Alberta track and field hopefuls are prepared for the invasion of about 30 athletes from the universities of Saskatchewan and Manitoba. The Alberta stars will pit their strength against that of their neighboring students who arrive in the city on Friday to participate in the Western Canada inter-collegiate track and field meet to be held on the Varsity grid on Saturday.

The meet, an annual event, is held alternately at the four western universities. Alberta is host this year to the competing students. The University of British Columbia will not be represented at the meet this year, due to financial reasons. It planned to send a team of five men and a coach, but after sending the Thunderbirds on their recent practice trip, it was thought inadvisable to send the crack men.

However, to offset the possible weakening of competition due to B.C.'s withdrawal, both Saskatchewan and Manitoba are sending strong teams to compete. Winnipeg officials have informed authorities here that they will be sending a team of 16, and Saskatchewan is expected to send 12 or 14, although no definite word has yet been received from Saskatchewan. Alberta will field a team of approximately 18.

From pre-season training, the Manitoba team appears to have the edge in strength, their men being in training from August 25. The strength of the Saskatchewan travelers is still much of an unknown quantity, as so definite reports have been received here of their activities. However, it is known that the university possesses a good share of talent, and has always figured prominently in inter-collegiate competition.

The Alberta team, which has been selected this week, after a rigorous material from the inter-university meet held on Monday at Regina, is a number of veteran standard bearers.

YETMAN STARS
Ian Cook, Dick Shillingford, Cecil Campbell, and the Dewis brothers can be expected to pit in strong bids in events in which they are scheduled. Cook and Shillingford will handle the high jump, and possibly the hurdles, although competitors for the latter event have not yet been announced. Shillingford will also appear in the 1.3 mile, mile, and 1.5 mile. The relay team will be composed of Campbell, Drake, Murray Packer and Allen.

In running events, Cecil Campbell will appear in the 100 yard and 440 yd. Versus Drake handling the 220 and the Dewis brothers, Murray and Jack, in the 1.5 mile. The relay team will be composed of Campbell, Drake, Murray Packer and Allen.

On the women's side, Doris Gilmore, Helen Ross and Elaine Russell will carry the burden of the battle.

LADY CANDIDATES
Doris Gilmore will appear in the 100 yd. and 220 yd. sprints, as well as the 440 yd. dash.

Might of Mare Upsets Race Dopesters

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 13.—French favorites were a close sweep in the 90th running of the Cambridgegrange stakes when Jacques Miller's Hellenika, a tiny mare rated no better than 100 to 1, tied two other French-trained candidates to the post.

The exciting finish was the battle of a David and a Goliath as Hellenika, an small she would be eligible for many races, held off the challenge of Kingpin Maestros, the largest horse in the field of 20 and an 8 to 1 favorite, to win by a head. J. A. Swainson, who a head behind Hellenika, was third. Time was one minute 31.4 seconds.

It was the first French victory in the Cambridgegrange since Palace Royal won 19 years ago. Bookmakers declared they had never had a better race, the victory of an outsider being coupled with the sweeping of the heavily-backed pre-post favorite, Mithras.

Hellenika's owner, Jacques Miller, told her himself, by Aethon out of Hellenika, and prior to today's race, worth about £1000 (£100,000), had won 2000 francs (£15,000). Tom Westhead, owner of Punch, a well-favored candidate for the Cambridgegrange, to be run later this week, had bought his horse with Hellenika in the "autumn double" and will win a fortune if Punch also finishes first.

Max Baer Starts Back on Fight Whirl
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—(A.P.) Jacob, New York boxing promoter, announced last night Max Baer had agreed to fight the winner of the Jones-Nomura-Parr bout scheduled for New York Dec. 16. Jacobs said the winner of the Baer and either Nova or Farr battle would be matched with Joe Louis in the heavyweight championship.

Baer sailed today for Honolulu to fight Hank Hankinson of Louisiana, O.

Thomas Brothers Plan Surprise Friday Evening

PROMOTER MIKE CUTCHER has called out the Army and the Marines to quell the rioting Cummings-Davis wrestling team. At least Cutchet has called on two mighty fine representatives of the armed might of the United States in the Thomas brothers, Soldier and Spinner, to stage a major battle with the tough and ready "Bad Boys" in the main event of his wrestling card at the Memorial Hall, Friday night.

Last night the Thomas brothers became an exhausted chasing Davis and Cummings in and out of the ring. This week, the fighting brothers will have Davis and Cummings cornered with a network of ropes and feel confident of taming the Davis-Cummings duo.

Last night the wife Spinner let drop the fact that he and his brother have prepared a real surprise for the "roughies." "We were given special training in the Navy in methods of boxing with hoodlums," announced Spinner, "and Davis-Cummings will be the worst pack of hoodlums I ever ran across." But the ex-servicemen refused to divulge the nature of the surprise in store for his "hoodlum" opponents.

Visibly overjoyed over Thomas' statement, were the two main muscle men, Davis Davis, and Bob Cummings. In fact they were so worked about the little surprise planned for their benefit that they completely forgot to get angry at being called hoodlums.

Promoter Cutchet is bringing back from eastern Canada a team of four men, including a champion boxer named "Tarran" Porvin. Porvin has only made a single appearance in Edmonton—against Dixie Davis several weeks ago. In that match he fell victim to Dixie's kick-backer. Porvin will be matched against the Hungarian wrestler, George Hagen in the semi-main event. But Thomas hopes to meet Davis in a return match.

The bouts will start at 9:30 p.m.
